Awesome and inspiring.

Normandy is a feast for the eyes and all senses. The eternal beauty of Mont-Saint-Michel. The stunning grandeur of the sea-worn cliffs at Étretat. The medieval splendour of Rouen Cathedral. Here the vestiges of history blend in with their natural settings. Survey the meandering River Seine from the battlements of Château Gaillard. Let the winds blow the cobwebs away as you contemplate the sea buffeting the Cap de La Hague or the mighty lighthouse at Goury...

Normandy, a breathtaking adventure.

LIVING LEGENDS & HISTORY

A Heritage to Treasure

Bayeux Tapestry

Mythical, mysterious Normandy.

Rich in medieval remains, brimming with history, teeming with tradition. Its standing stones, magic wells and folk tales recall an age of druids, fairies and trolls, but today's Normandy was fashioned in the turbulent middle ages, when William the Conqueror and his successors built great abbeys, castles and manors, including the castle of Falaise, where William was born, and the Abbaye aux Hommes, where he is buried. The UNESCO-listed Bayeux Tapestry is a unique record of William's momentous battle of 1066, while Château Gaillard is the last vestige of the Norman-English domination of the region. Wherever you go in Normandy you will find links with our ancestors.

Take a step back in time and discover the historic legacy of Normandy's idyllic towns and villages.

In Normandy, slip from one world to another in the space of a few hours - one day you're deep in the country, the next day you're on the beach or in town. Escape to the Orne region or the sunken paths of the Cotentin peninsula to find Normandy in its most natural state. Spend a day enjoying the quayside bustle in fishing ports like Honfleur, Barfleur and Granville or experience the charms of picturesque villages like Eu or Lyons-la-Forêt. Exchange the tranquillity of the Perche region for the hundred dizzy spires of Rouen and its winding medieval streets of half-timbered houses. Discover the genius of post-war Le Havre, UNESCO World Heritage city.

Normandy's mosaic of styles and architecture delights visitors with a new treasure at every turn.

RELAX IN STYLE

Be the King of the Castle

Châteaux and outstanding accommodation

at www.normandy-tourism.org

Home from home.

Drive up a sweeping, tree-lined driveway. Settle into your personal suite.

Bathe in the splendour and tranquillity of a genuine Renaissance château or a medieval manor. Savour French art de vivre at its most refined, with a wide choice of accommodation ranging from quiet retreats to vast palaces.

Normandy's prestigious châteaux include some of the most magnificent "B&B"s in Europe but if you seek more simple fare, why not relax at a farm, a country house or a thatched cottage and spend a few precious days enjoying the pastoral calm of the authentic country life?

Want to really spoil yourself? Normandy's spas have the answer: thermal and thalasso-therapies are available in many sites along the coast (Deauville, Dieppe, Granville, Luc sur Mer, Ouistreham), and inland at Bagnoles de l'Orne and Forges les Eaux.

Relax in style and let yourself be pampered!

Operation Overlord. Probably the most important military operation of all time. Had it failed, the world today would be a very different place. The thousands of young men who splashed through the surf on these beaches on D-Day were the spearhead of an army that fought its way across Europe and ended the Second World War. Today the shoreline is peaceful, but Normandy has been marked forever by the momentous events that led to the liberation of France and Europe.

Behind the beaches, many museums offer space for personal reflection and meditation to visitors of all nationalities, with superbly presented interactive displays describing the landings and the battle of Normandy.

An emotional and educational experience for young and old alike...

AN ARTIST'S SECRET PARADISE

Home of Impressionism

Claude Monet's "Nymphéas"

Claude Monet 1907

Normandy brings out the artist in us all.

The unique lighting, marvellous seascapes, stunning countryside and dramatic monuments which inspired Monet and other great artists continue to enthuse today's contemporary painters. A visit to Normandy is a discovery of the spiritual birthplace of Impressionism. From Giverny to Honfleur, from Étretat to Rouen Cathedral, follow in the footsteps of generations of artists.

Get Active!

Normandy's clean and sweeping beaches are rarely crowded, and offer some of the best kite and windsurfing in Europe. A wide choice of facilities welcome visiting yachtsmen, while there's fun for all the family at nature parks and museums, like the maze in Bayeux, the Cité de la Mer in Cherbourg, Cerza Safari Park near Lisieux, Alligator Bay, Festyland or Eana, the first theme park of its kind on sustainable development.

Environmentally-conscious Normandy is a paradise for nature lovers. The more energetic can explore the many hiking or horse-back trails and golf fans are spoilt for choice with Normandy's high-class courses.

If you are in the mood for adventure you can view the Mont-Saint-Michel from a microlight, trek across the Bay at low tide or try bungee jumping from the Souleuvre viaduct.

A way of life. Normandy is truly a food lover's paradise for visitors seeking that authentic culinary experience. There are so many local specialities to sample. Normandy excels at simple home cooking, from a delicious apple tart to a humble slice of buttered baguette. Try a sea-food platter, a fresh-caught sole or delicate scallops. A leg of lamb from the salt-meadows facing the Mont-Saint-Michel, farm-bred poultry. World famous local cheeses of Camembert, Livarot, Neufchatel or Pont l'Évêque and fresh crusty bread... food as natural as it is tasty.

Wash it down with local cider, and finish the meal with a glass of Calvados. Heaven...
